Elba's special municipal election draws an even dozen

by Ferrin Cox
Publisher

A full dozen candidates have qualified for the special Elba city council election ordered as the result of a federal court redistricting case. All five incumbents have qualified as candidates. Four of the five Elba council districts have challengers. Only in District 4 was the incumbent, Bill Brunson, guaranteed a seat at the council table for the balance of this four year term. Brunson didn't have an opponent in 1992. He is presently serving his second term on the city council. District 2 council member John W. Sharpless didn't have an opponent either in 1992, but this time is challenged by businessman Bill Waldon.

In District 1, incumbent Gladys Yelverton is the one woman in this race and she has two challengers. Both have run unsuccessfully against her in the past but are promising a vigorous campaign this time around. L. M. Burch and Jerry McMillian have qualified for this seat. Both men are employed with General Telephone Co.

Earl McCollough is serving his first term on the city council. However, he has two men who have qualified to take his place as District 3 council member. John Carter and Charles Lindsey are in that race. Carter is in the construction business and Lindsey is a former business owner in Elba, is retired and sells specialized insurance on a limited basis.

District 5 council member Ronnie Jinright had the largest number of residents before the redistricting. In fact his district was the one aced knowledge to be badly out of proportion with the one man-one vote concept. Jinright, a local businessman, is a first term council member. He is being challenged by two young men, Bobby Baker and Brad Wilson. Baker farms, serves as coronor and is a substitute rural mail carrier. Wilson works at Elba General Hospital.

Tuesday morning, Baker told The Elba Clipper that he was willing drawing from the city council race and would not be a candidate. The election is scheduled for Tuesday, September 21st and all voters will cast their ballot at the Army Reserve Center on Claxton Avenue.

Jinright seeks re-election

Last week, Councilman Ronnie Jinright qualified to run for re-election to the Elba City Council. In the municipal election held in 1992, Jinright was elected to serve as councilman for District 5 in the City of Elba.

A federal judge recently ruled that election invalid and ordered a new election to be held on September 21. He also ordered new district lines to be drawn. "In September 1992, the citizens of District 5 elected me as their city councilman," Jinright said. "I wish to thank each of them for their vote and support during the past year. "Being a newly elected council member, my first priority was to attend an orientation meeting held in Montgomery for new council members and mayors."

Jinright continued, "At this meeting, we were presented two books containing laws, rules and guidelines from the Alabama League of Municipalities."

Jinright stated that his second priority was to study the two books given him and have as much legal knowledge as possible to better represent the people of Elba and his district.

"I want to apologize to all the citizens of Elba for this special election," said Jinright. "Because of this election, it will cost the citizens of Elba their time and the city approximately $6,000.00. "This is an example of laws and rules that were not followed at the appropriate time." He also noted that the lawsuits that have come about against the City of Elba during the past year can also be attributed to this same situation. "During my first year in office," said Jinright, "I have tried my best to represent the people of District 5 by following the 'book' and being available at all times. "If I am re-elected, this is my promise again to each of you. "Due to the short amount of time before the special election, it will be impossible for me to see each one of you," Jinright noted. "So, I would appreciate your vote and continued support on September 21st."

Wilson announces candidacy for District 5 seat on council

Brad Wilson recently announced his candidacy for a seat on the Elba City Council.

He will be running for the District 5 seat on the council.

Wilson is 30-years-old and has lived in Elba for the past 10 years after moving from the Pine Level Community.

He is the son of Perry F. and Carol Wilson of Elba.

Brad's wife is Lynn Whitehurst. Wilson teaches first grade at the Elba Elementary School.

They have two children, a son, Bradley, who is 2-years-old, and a daughter, Bethany, who is only five days old at this writing.

Wilson has been employed by Elba General Hospital as an x-ray technician.

"I am running for the council position because I feel progress in Elba has been at a stand still long enough," said Wilson.

"While our present council and mayor are spending valuable time with personal differences, major issues are being forgotten," he stated.

"I plan to work with fellow council members and the mayor to improve Elba," said Wilson.

"There is too much that needs to be done and no time to waste in the next three years or Elba will be in serious trouble financially and in other areas," Wilson concluded. "United council members and the mayor to improve Elba, divided we fail!"

Waste Away Incorporated awarded Coffee County's garbage contract

The Coffee County Commission, in a recent commission meeting, awarded Waste Away the contract for weekly garbage collection beginning October 4, 1993.

All commissioners agreed implementing mandatory collection for each household and soliciting bids for collection guaranteed the best monthly price for each citizen.

Another benefit for Coffee County citizens is the general decrease in roadside litter and illegal dumps. This generally occurs when counties pass mandatory participation," said Waste Away District Manager, Pete McGough. "We are very pleased to offer our collection services to Coffee County and look forward to being a part of this community."

McGough said Waste Away will send packets to all county residents with information on route schedules and instructs on how to receive a 90-gallon roll-out cart to store garbage prior to collection.

Waste Away is a 20-year old Alabama based waste services company with 11 hauling companies, three sanitary landfills and four recycling center affiliates.

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

Your federal government is still taking good care of you. They had the "tube viewers" in mind when they passed the recent laws governing cable TV. ... we can prove it. In that law was a clause allowing TV stations to require payment from the cable folks if the cable picked up their signal and beamed it into your home. Surely that was for the benefit of the cable subscribers. Of course down the road, the cable companies will be able to increase your monthly fee to cover this increase in operating cost. We don't understand the thinking of a TV station's management when they demand this payment be made or their channel taken off the cable. Anyone who wishes to take this newspaper, improve its looks and pay the cost of delivering it to thousands of additional homes, well, they give us a call! We will tell our advertisers the good news right away. ... and then increase our income because they are getting a larger exposure to potential buyers, at no additional cost to us. That is the way the advertising game works and no one knows this better than TV stations. Again, we don't understand the adamant demand for payment being expressed by some broadcast stations.

Elba citizens have expressed pleasant surprise at the smoothness of the Pea River bridge since the Alabama Highway Department has completed the resurfacing project around the river crossing. We assume that by now area motorists have found out that the chains around the bridge pilings were not there to hold up the bridge. This is in spite of that "inside information" that was being passed around town. The chains were actually part of a testing project to determine just how much weight the bridge would hold up. The highway department is doing this on all bridges they maintain. An interesting result of these tests is that most of the bridges being tested have proven to be stronger than originally thought. Thus they will hold more weight and hopefully last longer before being replaced. That will save us down the road Alabama taxpayers money!

The Atlanta Braves have surprised us with their drive to be top dog again this year. When the sports writers started counting games left and how many behind Atlanta was, we said "no way" would they ever gain on us. We are awful close to being wrong, as another win Sunday put them a game closer to being the leader. We can't profess to being real baseball fans, but do admit to getting in the hype when friends and neighbors began chanting for their Braves.

Maybe the answer is, we like the underdog, after all we cheered several weeks ago when that "old man" pitcher got the best of a mad baseballer who charged the mound with revenge on his mind. Our Sunday School teacher explained that to us relating to the pitcher because he is almost as old as we are! Well anyway, a no-hitter is quite an accomplishment (and good help from his teammates) for any baseball pitcher. Especially heartwarming was the no-hitter last week by that pitcher who was born without a right hand. We don't even know his name, but hope every person who has some physical impairment uses him as an example of what a person can do if they want to bad enough.

We were surprised again last week. It appeared that almost nobody wanted to run for the Elba City Council in this upcoming special election. Our thoughts turned to believing it might all be over once the qualifying deadline arrived. How fooled we were! Before the dust settled, there were a dozen candidates, even more than in the regular election in 1992. Bill Brunson, in District 4, finally bowed to pressure from his neighbors and qualified to run again. Apparently their urging was sincere because none of those neighbors qualified to challenge him. Bill had another possibility ... he thought that maybe no one else would have the job! Let's pretend he was just being modest.

We thought the University of Alabama football team might be in for a long season when we saw they had 17 points scored in their last Saturday. That is until we read that the coach played a whopping 75 different players during that one game. Any team which can use that many players and still win easily should be a force to be reckoned with all challengers in the weeks to come.

We were among the complaints about the "improvements" in the ethics bill passed recently by the Alabama legislature. We can thank Governor Jim Folsom for voicing that thing. He also mixed the campaign financing bill passed in the special session. Now if he will just keep a stiff upper lip in resisting the pressure from gambling interests for a bill to further feather their nest. News "leaks" about the proposed casino gambling bill indicate it is strictly a "make me richer" proposal by and for a small group of greedy people. Members of the legislature should be ashamed for people to know they even considered voting for something like that.

We read in the daily newspapers last week that Enterprise was one of the communities cited for having bad water. Elba wasn't in that group. Do you reckon those folks across the river would like to buy a glass of clean drinking water from their little ol' neighbors on this side of the county? Elba didn't have to ration water during the summer's drought and that can be credited to the expansion program the Water and Electric Department spent a million dollars for last year. Our water continues to be clean and safe to drink, ditto our thanks to the same folks for putting in place the proper safeguards.

- When Electric Cooperative members Wesley and Mae Noser moved into a new double wide manufactured home, they made sure it was a Good Cents manufactured home. Their old single wide had been heated with a pot-bellied stove that made temperature regulation difficult.
- "You were either too hot or too cold," they said, "now in their Good Cents manufactured double wide, the superior insulation and an energy-efficient heat pump have made life easier. And even though their new home is twice as big as the old, their energy bills are up only slightly."

Live life to its fullest every day

by Fred Clark
President, Alabama Rural
Electric Association

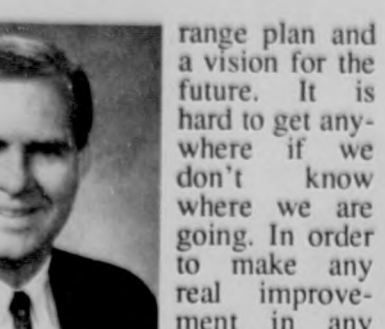

A few weeks ago, I experienced the loss of my father. He was 72 years old. His death was a great loss to me, to my family and to our community in Coffee County. Even with the knowledge that my father is in a better place and that he lived his life to the fullest, I will miss him and I believe his neighbors in Coffee County will miss him. He most certainly worked untiringly for the betterment of his community and his fellow man.

My father's death has strengthened a philosophy in which I strongly believe: Live life to its fullest every day. Life, even at its longest, is too short. It is easy to talk about the ideals of living a full and complete life, but in order to actually succeed, we must have goals and objectives—not only personal, individual goals and objectives, but also those goals which involve and affect the lives of others around us. The death of my father is a reminder to me that all of us should endeavor to leave our communities in better shape than when we came into them and to never lose sight of what is the "big picture." Looking at the "big picture" involves looking closely at the many segments that make up our local communities and looking closely at our own personal involvement in each of those areas. We must periodically ask ourselves what we are contributing to the big picture. That involvement can include your church, contributions to your local schools, community youth and senior citizen programs, and your business contributions to the community. These contributions must be in time as well as money.

In order to be sure our service to our communities is directed in the right direction, all of the segments that make up our communities must have a long-range plan and a vision for the future. It is hard to get anywhere if we don't know where we are going. In order to make any real improvement in any area of our lives, we must be focused and we must have vision. Only through long-term planning can we have a vision for the future. Only through vision can progress be made in the right direction.

What is your vision for your community and your neighbors? What are your long-term goals and objectives for your community? Are they centered around your church, around your schools, around your community's projects for the elderly, around economic growth? What are the opportunities offered through your community and your county? How can these opportunities be turned into assets? What are the obstacles in the way of progress and growth for your community? How can these obstacles be turned into advantages for your community?

Finding answers to these and similar questions in our everyday personal lives is called good old common sense. It goes without saying that we could all do with more planning and more common sense. The common sense involved with accomplishment and progress includes four steps: plan purposefully; prepare prayerfully; proceed positively; and pursue persistently.

I close this month's column with a couple of thoughts about my father and his life. He served this world well, not only through action but also through inspiration. Even after his death, I continue to be inspired by his full and deep life. May this be said about all of us one day.

Exposing A 62-Year-Old Congressional Cover-Up

One thing about being a new congressman, there seems to be no end to the cover-ups and insular trickery that I'm discovering here in Capitol Hill. Frankly, if the official skull-duggery were not bad for the people, it would simply be laughable. This week, we'll look at a legislative slight of hand that Congress routinely plays on an unsuspecting public.

Nobody likes a hypocrite. Yet, Congress has taken the art of hypocrisy to new heights. Congressmen frequently sign onto worthy bills that the public wants them to support, but when it comes time to call these bills up for a final vote many of these same congressmen are silent. The result is a lot of good legislation is hopelessly locked up in committee and never sees light of day. Thus Congress has learned how to have it both ways.

How do Members of Congress do it? They hide behind a secret discharge petition. When the majority leadership in Congress does not want a law to be passed, it allows everyone to know who signs and who doesn't sign onto discharge petitions. Ironically, this bill itself is being held up in the House Rules Committee where its own discharge petition is pending.

A list of those members who haven't signed onto their discharge petition was leaked to the Wall Street Journal and published on August 17. Thus far, the petition has 211 names, seven shy of the necessary 218. Amazingly, six congressmen actually removed their names from the petition when it appeared that it might get enough support to pass.

I hope the public is watching.

Remembering With Jake

By Jake Bonneau

I would like to say that I try to be as accurate as possible concerning dates, but so much I write about occurred so long ago that no one is left to verify.

The Dorsey Company made steady gains in establishing itself as a producer of quality at a fair market price. They expanded from the one building where Walter Cox's West-ern Auto now is into taking up the building adjacent to them. One I know had been a mule stable. They saved the floors of them all so the heavy machinery would be supported properly.

In 1932, I was in the sixth grade in the old two story school building. That grade was downstairs in the left rear. Of course, the desks were the old cast iron with folding seats. Your desk top had an enclosed shelf under it to keep your book and paper. In the back was a hole to keep the ink bottle and a place to put your pen. Replaceable pen points were used when a tip was bent or wore out. You dipped the pen into the ink well as you wrote. Most was pencil written.

I believe school had been started a short time when a new boy came to class. That boy was Theron Kimmie Dorsey. He had come to Elba to live with his mother's sister and his father's brother, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. "Pete" Dorsey.

Kimmie and I began to develop a friendship very quickly.

I feel sure that Kimmie was named for his grandmother. She was Callie Kimmie, who married Bud Stephens. Callie Kimmie Stephens was a sister to Dr. John M. Kimmie's father, Kimmie Dorsey. Always spelled his name differently.

Kimmie started coming by the Breaux house after school and I started going to the Dorsey house. It was natural for me to call his folks the way he called them. So they became Auntie and Uncle Pete. We studied together at night and Kimmie had an entrance that went into his room from the car port. It extended out a few feet from the room back of it so the steps from the car port went directly into his room. When we became old enough to smoke, we would buy cigarettes out the window to keep Auntie and Uncle Pete from knowing it. Their room was a big sitting room and bedroom combined. No one was ever conditioning so their windows were up too. Years later, Auntie smiled and told Kimmie how the smoke came out of his room at night and the windows in their room. Young people are prone to think they get by with more than they do.

Uncle Pete had a cabinet type radio by his big chair in their room. The controls were on top so he could reach them from his chair. His pocket watch came out when it was about time for the news cast. He knew what the programs came on. He had a radio in his car and the first portable radio, I'm pretty sure, in Elba. You see, Uncle Pete was a very intelligent man. I would go so far as to call him brilliant. He was a good business man. No one could make a better deal than he and one could never take advantage of him. In that day and time we never heard of dyslexia and no one will ever know why, but the fact remains, he could not read and write. To his credit, it never held him back from the success he was. This is where Vardie Wright came in. It was he who handled all of the details. Uncle Pete gave him instructions and Vardie took it from there. Uncle Pete was well informed on almost any subject you wanted to discuss. In fact, anyone who knew him considered him to be a good business man.

He never really needed an office. He roomed the entire Dorsey operation. No one every knew when or where he would show up and ask questions.

Most people have hobbies that cost them money. Uncle Pete's hobby was his farm. I'm not sure, but I believe it was about 600 acres just south of Bethany Church. Hugh Gannon ran the farm. He and Uncle Pete did some experimental programs on that farm. That was Uncle Pete's inquisitive mind at work doing.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Mr. Cox:

I spoke with you on Tuesday, August 31, about trying to trace down my family tree. This is the information I have and I would appreciate it if you would run it in the paper for me.

I am seeking information about the family of William H. Moore and his wife, Martha. William was born in Georgia in 1850 and died February 2, 1895. Martha died May 21, 1904. They were residents of Coffee County and are buried in the New Home Cemetery, south of Elba.

They had several children as of 1880. They were: Minnie, 8 years; Lizzie, 6 years; John M. (my grandfather), 4 years; William, 2 years; Perry, 1 year; and Norris, 4 months.

Another child, or several, were born later. One child was Lillie Bell who married a King. I am trying to establish the Indian link with the family. Some time around 1897 or 98, their first child, John Pollard, was born on December 23, 1899. Other children were: Minnie Lee, Maude Victoria, Nolie, Molly Mae (Fannie), Estelle, William, Pearl. All are deceased except for Minnie (my mother) and Maude, who lives in Hawaii.

Any information and/or pictures about the family would be appreciated. I can be reached in Montgomery at 244-7304 or my office, after 6:00 p.m., 1-800-635-0195. My home address is: Gary Loftin, 732 N. Pass Rd., Montgomery, AL. 36110.

Thanks for the help,
Gary Loftin

Uncle Pete was well informed on almost any subject you wanted to discuss. In fact, anyone who knew him considered him to be a good business man.

Uncle Pete had a cabinet type radio by his big chair in their room. The controls were on top so he could reach them from his chair. His pocket watch came out when it was about time for the news cast. He knew what the programs came on. He had a radio in his car and the first portable radio, I'm pretty sure, in Elba. You see, Uncle Pete was a very intelligent man. I would go so far as to call him brilliant. He was a good business man. No one could make a better deal than he and one could never take advantage of him. Students Attend "The Big Event"

by Crystal Whitt
Yearbook South was held June 26-30 at Sanford University in Birmingham. The clinic was called "The Big Event" and that is exactly what it was. Suzy Bryan, Samella Green, Crystal Whitt, Amber Wilson, and Mrs. Rachel Bryan, Yearbook advisor, attended the workshop which began on Sunday, June 26th with registration and color group assignments. Upon arrival students and advisors received a T-shirt and notebook. The notebook included pencils, rulers, handouts, and assorted schedules.

On Monday, several workshops attended by students included basic layout, cropping and photo editing, copy writing, merchandising, and coverage and color usage. There was also a slide show which was shown as well as the students hearing motivational speaker Mike Smith at the first general assembly.

On Tuesday, the students attended more workshops on the opening, the closing, and student life sections of the yearbook. Mrs. Bryan's workshop was on typography. All workshops were held on the Sanford University campus with students in walking distance of the dorms where the students and advisors stayed. Tuesday was also competition day. The students competed in layout and copywriting competitions. To conclude the day, an ice cream social and color group presentations were held. The color group competitions included a scavenger hunt, spirit competitions, and a lip sync competition. Zion Chapel's color group (purple) received second place in the states.

The clinic proved to be full of work, fun, and a little friendly competition. The students from Zion Chapel returned home on Wednesday afternoon with some of the members of the prestigious senior class about the first day at Elba High.

Laura Brown, Beverly Flowers, and Kim Killingsworth participated in the 1993-94 Coffee County Junior Miss Scholarship Program which was held in the new Elba High School auditorium on July 24, 1993. Fourteen girls from Enterprise, Elba, New Brockton, Kinston and Zion Chapel, representing every school in Coffee County, participated in this year's program entitled "Tropical Tempests". The participants were a number of different routines which included and opening number, "Volcano"; a physical fitness routine, "Congo"; and individual creative and performing arts presentations, a presence and composure routine, "Sail Away to Kokum"; and a finale, "So Many Stars".

A panel of evaluators rated each girl using the following scale: panel evaluation, 30%; scholastic achievement, 20%; creative and performing arts, 20%; physical fitness, 15%; and presence and composure, 15%.

For their performing arts presentations, Laura chose to perform a tap routine from the hit Broadway musical, "Jelly's Last Jam". Beverly chose to sing a patriotic time, "Battle Hymn of the Republic". Kim chose to sing the country-western hit, "Daddy's Hands".

Four young women were recognized for outstanding achievement. Included in this year's program were Beverly Flowers, who was especially recognized for making over 30 on the ACT. She was awarded a full paid scholarship to Troy State University. She also won the Scholastic Achievement preliminary where she was awarded a $100 cash tuition scholarship. Laura Brown was selected as the second alternate and was awarded a $200 cash tuition and a senior portrait package donated by Photographic Arts in Enterprise.

Others participating were Jennifer Britton, Meredith Jones, Julie Donaldson, Tabatha Gooden, Amy Morgan, Lydia Fleming, and Megan Griffin. All of Enterprise, Robyn Rhoades and Stacy Seay, of Elba; Gina Edwards of New Brockton and Denise Farris of Kinston. Lydia Fleming was named the second alternate and was awarded a $200 cash tuition and a senior portrait package donated by Photographic Arts in Enterprise.

First Impressions

Well, as sorry as we are to say, school has started once again. We thought we'd get some reactions from some of the "rookies" and also from some of the members of the prestigious senior class about the first day at Elba High.

What's the difference between seventh graders and seniors? A seventh grader carries a trapper-keeper to school on the first day. A senior is luck to have one sheet of paper on hand.

The seventh graders are worried about the impressions they make on people (clothes, hairstyles, etc.). The seniors don't care what they wear as long as it is clean.

The seventh graders run to class because they are afraid of being tardy. The seniors amble along in the hall talking and laughing with their friends making it to class to class coolly in their desks as the tardy bell is ringing.

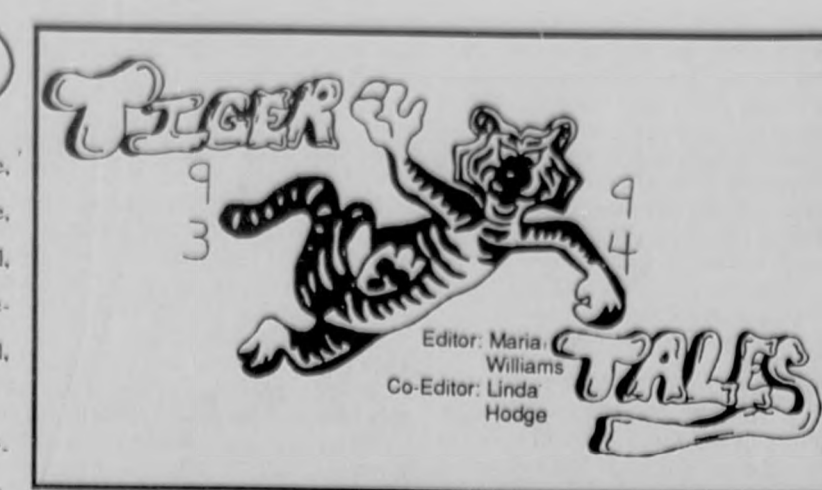

Seventh graders walk meekly down the hall afraid to bump into an upper classman. The seniors strut down the hall with an attitude of a complete knock-out (and they really do!).

Seventh graders say things like, "Look at all of those seniors laughing at us, they think they are so cool." Seniors say things like, "Why are they all dressed alike, trying to act like they are cool."

Each morning we attended a general session. There we listened to various speakers. Before lunch, the large group divided into nine smaller groups. In these council groups, we were challenged to use creativity in many different assignments and present our ideas as a team. After lunch, each council attended another general session followed by a second council meeting.

Each night as council groups we participated in fun activities. On Monday night we participated in olympic games and afterwards enjoyed pizza. Then on Tuesday night we attended a barbecue, a talent show, and a heartwarming patriotic ceremony. During the patriotic ceremony, the council groups sang patriotic songs and read inspirational passages. The ceremony ended with each person lighting a candle. On the last night, Wednesday, we attended a banquet and a dance. Also, each night before returning to our dorms, each council would meet to reflect upon what they had learned that day.

This week will be remembered for a long time by the officers and our advisor. We saw old friends and made many new ones.

The Lowdown On ISS

by Lashawn Russell & Joe Russell
In the past years of Elba High School, many forms of punishment have been used for discipline problems including Saturday school, after school detention, suspension. Due to the limited success of these three programs, the administration has now implemented in school suspension (ISS).

Mrs. Pastern Robinson, who is in her third year at EHS, is the supervisor of ISS. Her role is to make sure that the students maintain their school work and get the proper counseling that is needed by the students in ISS.

The ISS classroom is located in the junior high wing of the school. The room contains sixteen divided cubicles, but more can be added if necessary. This room has now windows and the students will be facing the walls at all times. The students will have no social contact with the other students of the school. They will have separate recess, a separate lunch, and a separate bathroom facility which are all designed not to interfere with the other students daily routine.

Also, all driving privileges, sports, band, and cheerleader participation is taken away while the student is in ISS.

The administration is still discussing what will happen if the student fails to abide by the rules of ISS. But if the ISS program does not work for a student, he or she will be referred to a judge or to some type of juvenile court.

Mrs. Robinson stated that ISS is a good alternative to regular suspension because, "the student will remain in school, rather than stay at home, and he or she will continue their education. Mrs. Robinson also stated that ISS will be effective because, "ISS may change the student's attitude and help them obtain a better future."

The 1993-94 Tiger Times staff would like to wish Mrs. Robinson and the administration good luck with the ISS program. Maybe it will correct social and behavioral problems at EHS.

FIRST MEETING

by Jill Martin
The Elba High School Student Government Association held its first meeting on August 25, 1993, in Mrs. Little's room. President Holly Stinson called the meeting to order and welcomed everyone. Vice President Elena Strong then lead the pledge and read a poem of inspirational words.

New business consisted of developing committees for the year. Members signed up to be on the various committees. Next, the Association voted to sponsor a doughnut sale as a fundraiser. A date for the sale was not set. Last, Holly Stinson encouraged the class representatives to share with their homerooms the topics discussed in the meeting.

The meeting was then adjourned and the September meeting is September 8.

ZC Varsity Cheerleaders Attend Clinic

by Chris Green
The Zion Chapel Varsity Cheerleaders attended the National Cheerleaders Association summer camp for three days this summer at Gulf Coast Community College. The camp began at 9 a.m. and ended at 5 p.m. each day. Although the camp was small, around one hundred cheerleaders from surrounding states came to learn cheers, chants, jumps, pyramids, and dances. Everyone wanted to learn "Bleacher Mania II," which is the NCA approach to crowd involvement during pep rallies. The Zion Chapel Varsity Cheerleaders returned with three superior ribbons, a Spirit Improved Squad trophy and the Safety First Certificate. Zion Chapel was also one of the four finalists in the Top Team run-off. All in all, the week was one of having conditioning themselves to the max to support the '93 Rebels!

by Cory H. Driggers
You guessed it! It's time for good "the Elba Tiger football. As always the expectations are high at EHS, especially after last year's state championship season. The Tigers are loaded with talent again this year, and if the team chemistry is there, another championship may be in store.

The Tigers appear to be strong on both sides of the ball. The offensive backfield will be led by D. J. Bolcher and Derrick Kyles, while All-State candidates, quarterback Keith Grantham and senior Josh Caldwell, should give the offense the explosiveness to score at any given time. The defense will be led by the likes of defensive end Cory Howe, linebacker Derrick Kyles, and defensive tackle Bo Boyd.

Here are some of the Tigers' responsibilities when asked what they hoped to accomplish this season:

Mot Barnes: "I want to help win another state championship."
Cochran: "I hope to see team work, a winning attitude, and a positive environment."
Lator Holley: "I want us to play to the best of our abilities."
Good luck Tigers!

Views From THE PRESSBOX

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

Now that Melanie has become a full-fledged Braves fan, she has decided it is time to become an Elba Tiger fan. She didn't make it to the game Friday night because of the threat of rain; however, she is already making it clear that she wants to go to Georgiana, and right now it looks like Friday night she will get to cheer for the Tigers. If the band will play the right notes, she will definitely yell "Charge!"

OPENING LOSS MAY PROVIDE EARLY WAKE UP CALL

There is a sign atop the fancy new scoreboard at Tiger Stadium that reads "Home of the Fighting Tigers." I don't know when Elba's nickname changed to Fighting Tigers; however, it was certainly true Friday night as the Tigers fought until the final horn only to come out on the short end of a 21-20 decision to the talented Charles Henderson Trojans.

Elba entered the game two to three touchdown underdogs to the 5A Trojans and many local fans felt like the Tigers didn't have a chance against the physical style attack of Charles Henderson. That just shows you how smart most fans really are, because the Elba Tigers played hard for four quarters and never backed down to the Trojan running game that gained almost 400 yards and just kept banging away at the Elba defense. It may go down in the books as a loss, but certainly wasn't a total loss for the Tiger coaches and players.

Tigers looking for first win on road Friday against Georgiana

Coach Mack Wood

The Elba Tigers will be looking for their first win of the young season Friday night when they travel to Georgiana to battle the highly-touted Georgiana Panthers.

Elba lost its opener last week to 5A Charles Henderson 21-20, while the Panthers clobbered 1A McKenzie 41-7.

"Georgiana had one of the better teams we played last season," said Elba's Coach Mack Wood, "and this season they have a new young coach and are really excited about their chances."

Georgiana has a big, physical football team, added Wood, "and last week totally manhandled a respectable McKenzie team. Georgiana has a big line that really comes off the football, a solid bunch of running backs and a veteran quarterback that does a good job leading the offense. The Georgiana offense has size, speed and a wide open attack on both the ground and in the air, and they can put points on the scoreboard in a hurry from anywhere on the field."

"Georgiana uses the same folks over on defense," said Wood, "and they are just as aggressive on that side of the ball as they are on offense. They have a big line and some outstanding linebackers and really pursue to the football."

"If we are going to have any chance of winning over in Georgiana we'll have to be improved in all areas and play hard for all four quarters," Wood stated. "Offensively we'll have to block better and be able to run the ball inside, and improve greatly on our pass blocking. We'll have to be balanced to keep them honest, and play better than we did last week, because Georgiana will be ready and will play us just as hard as they can."

"Our defense will have to improve all across the field and play physical on every single play,"

Wood added. "We'll have to be ready for the options and sweeps, and at the same time be ready when they put the ball in the air. Georgiana has some quality athletes that can hurt you and we'll have to play hard and try to let our defense take charge of the game. We have to be able to stop the run and we certainly can't allow three touchdowns a game if we expect to win."

"Georgiana may be a 2A team," said Wood, "but they won big last week and are all excited about playing us this week. They played us hard last year and think they can beat us this year. Confidence means a lot and they are confident they will beat us Friday night. We have to play with a lot of pride and confidence ourselves and try to take command of the game early and never let them get the upper hand. If we give it everything we've got we can win the game, but it will take an outstanding effort by the entire team."

Looking back at 21-20 loss to Charles Henderson

Elba's Wood says game wasn't total loss

"If you accept defeats as moral victories, you'll end up having more moral victories than you will actual wins."

Those were the words of Elba's Coach Mack Wood following Friday night's 21-20 season opening loss to Charles Henderson.

"It is always hard to lose," said Coach Wood, "but the players played well in spots and gave a tremendous effort for all four quarters. We had to play a veteran team with a team filled with inexperienced players and a lot of youngsters, and still almost pulled out the win. It was a loss and will go down on our record as a loss; however, it was a loss in which we played well and it should be a stepping stone for better games to come."

"On offense we ran the ball well at times, but weren't able to get the passing game going because of their pass rush," added Wood. "D.J. Belcher ran hard and had a good first game at tailback, and the line did a pretty good job blocking against the big and physical Charles Henderson line. We did have problems, but it wasn't due to a lack of effort."

"Our defense got pushed around by their big offensive line and we gave up a lot of yards on the ground," stated Wood, "and it is obvious that we'll have to take a long look at how we played and try to get in a defensive plan that we can do well, and one in which we can stop folks. We were outmanned at times, but played hard and never gave up, despite the success they had running the football."

"The three factors in any game are offense, defense and the kicking game," added Coach Wood, "and we certainly got whipped in the kicking game. We missed an extra-point and had another one fail due to bad timing on the snap, and that was two points we didn't score, and we lost by one point. We weren't able to do as much work as we had liked before the game and it showed. That is one area where we can, and will improve."

"We always enter a game expecting to win," Wood added, "and we thought we could win Friday night. We played well enough in spots to believe out of a large home crowd and the visiting Arion Purple Cats Friday night as they romped to an impressive 36-0 win."

The Bulldogs grabbed an early 6-0 lead on a 6-yard touchdown pass from Derek Caldwell to Andrew Kilecrease, then upped its lead to 14-0 when Charlie Layton broke loose and raced 63 yards for a touchdown. Caldwell scored on a 15 yard scamper in the closing minutes of the opening stanza to give the Bulldogs a big 21-0 lead, and the rout was on!

Mario Jones tacked on a pair of touchdowns on runs of 10 and 20 yards, as Brantley easily held on for the lopsided 36-0 win.

Mario Jones gained 138 yards on 12 carries to lead the Brantley ground attack, while Charlie Layton added 108 yards rushing.

Elba's Junior High Tigers will kickoff their season tonight (Thursday) when they host Charles Henderson Junior High, of Troy.

"We haven't had but about two real practices because of the late start and the weather," said Elba's Coach Frank Phillips, "but the players are willing to work and I expect them to play hard against Henderson. We'll have to keep it simple on both sides of the football and try not to make any mistakes that can get you beat."

"We've got a good group of players that like to play football," added Phillips, "and I hope the fans will come on out and support the team."

Kickoff is 7:00 p.m.

it back to the playoffs in '93. Elba won't play against another team this season with as much size and talent as Charles Henderson, and the one-point loss should tell the Tigers that they can play with anyone, anywhere any night!

'93 OPENER WAS NEW PAGE IN TIGER HISTORY

Friday night's game against Charles Henderson marked the first game ever at Elba's brand new stadium, and although there were a few minor problems, the problems were too minor and too few to even worry about, and did nothing to tarnish the bright new home for the Elba Tiger football team. The sidelines were soggy because of the heavy rains, but the field was in excellent shape and withstood the pounding with only a few scars. The crowd was huge and it seemed like the cars would never quit coming. However, after the game the cars quickly exited the campus and I was home only nine minutes after getting in the car, which is not bad at all.

Elba's new stadium had a successful grand opening, and with a little time to mature, will become one of the nicest stadiums anywhere in the state. It's a great new home for Elba Tiger football!

AREA TEAMS FIND ROUGH GOING IN OPENERS

The opening of the 1993 high school football season was nothing to brag about for the local teams, that is unless you are from Brantley, where the Bulldogs munched down and made the debut of new coach John Williamson one to forget as Straughn raced past the Bulldogs 32-0. Kinston has always had trouble with quick teams and that was the case Friday night as Straughn gained almost 400 yards on the ground. The Dogs are a long way from growing teeth, but they should be ready to catch something pretty soon.

NEW BROCKTON fell behind early and never even threatened as they were blown out by 4A W.S. Neal 32-6. The Gamecocks moved the ball at times, but never really challenged the Blue Eagles, and the loss could have been much worse if Neal had not called off the starters in the third quarter. If the Gamecocks can learn from the loss, they will get in the win column sooner than you may think.

AUBURN AND ALABAMA ENJOY BIG OPENING WINS
It was a good week to be either an Auburn Tiger fan or a Crimson Tide fan, as both state schools won their season openers. The Tigers made the debut of Terry Bowden a successful one, while the Tide toyed with Tulane and did just enough to win. It is early in the season; however, it looks like both teams could be headed for winning seasons and excellent records.

PROGNOSTICATOR CONFIDENT AFTER SOLID WEEK
Ye Ole Polish Prognosticator was smiling Sunday when he stopped by the office and made it clear that his opening week record of 13-5 was one of his best starts ever. He did stumble on the Elba pick over Charles Henderson, but said his pick was closer than that of most Tiger fans. Here are his picks for week #2...

ELBA VS. GEORGIANA
The Tigers lost 21-20 last week, while the Panthers won 41-7. Wonder which team will be the most first up? Georgiana has a young coach in former Auburn standout Shane Waddsen and appears excited about the season, and you know the Panthers are looking forward to the Tigers' visit. They better be, because ready or not, here they come!

BRANTLEY VS. RED LEVEL
The Bulldogs made everyone sit up and take notice last week with their blowout win over Arion and this week the Dogs jump into the Azca race. Red Level has a much improved team, but not enough to have a chance against the Big Green Machine!

KINSTON VS. ZION CHAPEL
An early season cross-county battle between two teams hungry for a win. The Bulldogs had their moments last week and really didn't look all that bad; however, the Rebels are on their home turf and could have an ambush planned!

NEW BROCKTON VS. LONG
The Gamecocks suffered a disappointing loss to W.S. Neal last week and didn't look very good at all. G.W. Long has a proud tradition and will be the clear cut favorite, but this one has the look of an upset to me.

Elba Tigers drop season opener to Charles Henderson 21-20

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

The Elba Tigers gave an overflow crowd plenty to cheer about Friday night at the grand opening of the new Tiger Stadium, but couldn't turn back a fourth quarter rally by the visiting Charles Henderson Trojans as the Tigers dropped a 21-20 decision in the season opener for both teams.

Charles Henderson received the opening kick and displayed its powerful running game as the Trojans marched 60 yards in only three plays to grab a quick 7-0 lead.

Ceneade Pennington was the star of the drive as he gained 61 yards on two carries, and got the score on a 34 yard sprint. Thomas Catrett added the extra-point and the Trojans owned a 7-0 lead with 10:13 still left in the first quarter.

Elba's offense was also ready to show its strength and on its first possession of the game, marched 52 yards to the Trojan 25-yardline. D.J. Belcher had two big runs during the drive, while the big play of the series came when Keith Grantham jumped high to avoid an on-rushing defender and lofted a pass to Josh Caldwell for a 32-yard gain.

A fumble killed the early Elba threat, and the Tigers didn't threaten again until late in the quarter when Roscoe Coleman recovered a Trojan fumble at the Tigers' 47-yardline.

A 15-yard penalty against Charles Henderson moved the ball to the Trojan 38-yardline, and on the next play D.J. Belcher turned the corner on the Trojan defense and raced 38 yards for the first Elba score of the season. The extra-point try sailed wide, but with 10 left in the opening stanza Elba had cut the lead to 7-6.

Charles Henderson put the ball in play at its 20-yardline early in the second quarter following a 47-yard punt by Elba's Che Vaughan and again got its running game cranked up as the Trojans drove 80 yards in 13 plays to extend its lead to 14-6.

Ceneade Pennington was the workhorse of the drive as he gained 77 yards on 8 carries, while the score came when Osayefo Grubbs ran in two carries during the march and scored the touchdown on a fourth down play when he rambled in from seven yards out. The extra-point try again failed, but the Trojans were on top 20-14 with 8:06 left in the third stanza.

The fired up Tigers stopped the Trojans cold on the ensuing series, but Charles Henderson got the ball back on its 34-yardline late in the third quarter and this time marched 66 yards in 15 plays to regain the lead.

Pennington was again the workhorse with 45 yards on 7 carries, while Grubbs scored on a one yard sneak and Catrett added the extra-point, giving the Trojans a 21-20 lead with 9:13 left in the game.

Elba failed to make a first down on its next two series, but still had hopes of a win with 1:47 left in the game after getting the ball back on a caught the Trojans 14-14.

Charles Henderson threatened again in the closing seconds of the half and reached a first down at the Elba 37-yardline, but Tiger defensive end Jason Holley made two big stops on consecutive plays and at intermission the Trojans went in tied at 14-14.

Elba received the second half kickoff and marched 63 yards in 9 plays to take the lead for the first time in the game.

Keith Grantham had a big 16-yard scamper and hit Josh Caldwell on a 12-yard pass during the drive, while D.J. Belcher gained 25 yards on 8 carries during the march and scored the touchdown on a fourth down play when he rambled in from seven yards out. The extra-point try again failed, but the Trojans were on top 20-14 with 8:06 left in the third stanza.

Charles Henderson punt at the Tiger

24-yardline.

The hopes were short-lived; however, as a pass interception on first down gave the ball right back to the Trojans, who ran out the clock to preserve the 21-20 win.

D.J. Belcher gained 108 yards on 15 carries and scored two touchdowns to lead the Elba running attack, while Keith Grantham hit on 5 of 10 passes for 80 yards and one score. Ceneade Pennington was the star of the night for Charles Henderson as he gained 315 yards on 33 carries.

The Tiger defense was paced by D.J. Belcher with 9 tackles, 2 assists and a fumble recovery, while Demaris Barnes made 8 stops and had 3 assists and Todd Hooks had 8 tackles and 1 assist.

ing of Michael Simmons moved across midfield, only to once again be turned back.

Straugh missed a field-goal on an ensuing series and had a touch-down come off the end of his next possession, but overcame the mistakes and increased its lead to 39-0 late in the third quarter on a 25-yard field goal.

The Bulldogs were down, but not about to quit, and behind the strong arm of quarterback Frank Manumale, they came back to tie the Bulldogs to a first down at the Straugh - 29-yardline. Jonathan Spears stepped for 21 yards to set up a 30-yard field goal. Then, disaster struck when a pitchout was fumbled and Straugh recovered at the 10.

Straugh quickly moved downfield and scored again on a 35 yard dash by Eddie Parker to give the Tigers a 25-0 lead with 4:11 remaining.

Straugh got the ball back at the Kingston 36-yardline following a missed field goal. After a 25-yard pick-six, only two plays to go back on the scoreboard, with Mr. Parker again doing the honors, this time on a 35-yard field goal. The game ended in the final margin of victory at 32-0.

Kingston's Frank Mann passed for 47 yards under a heavy pass rush with 1:10 left in the game. Jonathan Spears was the leading rusher with 100 yards.

BY EVERY MEANS, SPORTSWRITER

Last week's edition of the College Corner got sidetracked and never wrote up the "Sports" desk, but he will agree that I had one of my best weeks ever in predicting the outcome of the football season. I've got a hunch that North Carolina will give Florida State a real battle this season, especially after the Heels' two impressive season opening wins over Wake Forest and to that later.

My biggest upset last week through were picking South Carolina over Georgia and Washington over Stanford. Auburn over Ole Miss was a worrisome pick that came through, while Alabama won in a game that was a real thriller. Bear Bryant used to say that "I'd rather win ugly than pick great and lose," and that's what got the Tide fans over the early problems.

Week 3's of the college season offers some very interesting matchups in the SEC and around the nation.

In the SEC, Georgia must travel to Knoxville to take on Tennessee. This would look like an easy pick after last week's Bulldogs loss at home, but a year ago Tennessee waltzed over Louisiana Tech in its opener and a year ago Tennessee was the only team to beat Alabama in the SEC. The Commodore's defensive line got a baptism of fire in the opener and this week this will be hungry and ready to avenger the upset to Carolina. It may not make any difference, as Heath Shuler and Aaron Hayden will do as they please and as they please it is that this is Phil's team and the SEC is not one of Johnny Marks'. PICK - TENNESSEE 31 GEORGIA 21

Alabama is beat up after their win over Tulane and their feelings are also hurt after allowing the Green Wave to put 17 points on the scoreboard. Playing Vanderbilt in Nashville, in the SEC game of the week, will give the Commodore's a chance to pull off the upset. The Commodore's idea that they can pull off the upset if this bunch is really chomping at the bit for material. The tide will roll, but the defense will again look for a chance to pull off the upset.

Other picks in week 3 include - Mississippi State 23 LSU 20, Florida State 31 Clemson 15, Michigan 35 Notre Dame 14, So Cal 24 Penn State 21, Texas Tech 21 Oklahoma 14, South Carolina 21 Arkansas 17, Nebraska 34 Texas Tech 21 and Rocky Mountain 21.

Red Cross Drive Planned For September 11, In Enterprise

Individuals living near or working in Enterprise will have two excellent opportunities to help keep the blood supply at a safe level for family, friends and neighbors. On Saturday, September 11, the Army National Guard will host a Red Cross Blood Drive between 7:44 a.m. and 11:00 a.m. at the National Guard Armory in Enterprise. On Friday, September 17, Enterprise Medical Center will host a drive from 12:00 p.m. until 4:30 p.m.

September usually means the end of vacation season for many people. However the need for blood never ends. Your blood donation helps victims not only survive serious injuries, but blood and blood components provide vital treatments for patients with cancer, sickle cell anemia, hemophilia and severe burns. Individuals who have not donated within the past 56 days as well as those who have never donated before are encouraged to do so during one of these drives.

A blood donation is a simple and safe procedure that takes approximately 45 minutes. There is also a mini-checkup to make sure your blood pressure and temperature and pulse as well as iron level are all in a safe range.

Donors must be at least 17 years of age, weight at least 110 pounds and be in good health. There is no

Kinston seeking county's help on recreation complex

by Marvin McIlwain
Editor

The Coffee County Commission held another "marathon" meeting Monday morning.

During the meeting, commissioners awarded bids, heard requests for assistance, reports, and heard one person seeking permission to meet with county employees.

Jerry Barnes, principal of Kinston High School, served as a spokesperson for a group of citizens from Kinston seeking the commission's help.

Barnes stated that the group was asking for the commission's help in preparing the site for the construction of a softball and baseball fields.

After looking at engineering plans for the project, County Engineer Mark Pool estimated that it would take 3 men and 4 pieces of equipment approximately three months to properly prepare the site.

During the discussion between commissioners and the Kinston group, concern was expressed on the part of commissioners that the project would take so long.

During recent months, county crews have been working and concentrating on getting the county landfill ready for contractors to begin work.

Pool and the commissioners noted that county road maintenance, and new road construction have had to wait due to the landfill project.

Commissioners noted that since the work has or is now in the process of being completed by private contractors, county crews will be trying to catch up on other county projects that have gone lacking.

Commissioner Bill Faulk told the group that the commission wants to help, but "We don't want to mislead anyone by making promises we can't keep."

For more than five years now, residents of Kinston and the surrounding area have been working on getting a recreation complex constructed.

Citizens have raised, through donations and fund raising projects, more than $25,000 to be used in the construction of a sports complex.

Another $25,000 has been obtained through a grant from the Alabama Department of Economic and Community Affairs.

Plans call for the complex to be located on a 15-acre site just east of Kinston. The land was donated to the town for that purpose.

Barnes noted that "The students are the real winners in this recreation project."

After several minutes of discussion, the commission would not make a definite commitment to work on the project; however, they did

Elba's city council meeting routine

by Ferrin Cox
Publisher

The Elba City Council meeting Monday evening was routine with very few differing opinions and those that did happen could easily be described as "exploring possibilities."

The long discussed Recreation Advisory Committee was appointed by the Mayor and City Council Monday night.

Council members had each recommended two interested citizens from their respective districts and the mayor selected one of the two names from each district to make up the five member committee.

Names to serve are Frank Phillips Jr., representing District 1; Rachel Moore, representing District 2; Chris Head, representing District 3; Debbie Curran representing District 4 and Gaynes Waters, representing District 5.

The council approved payment of bills totaling $20,359.97. They also voted to get an appraisal on the back half of the old vocational building. The council has an industrial prospect interested in purchasing this property.

The often discussed curfew ordinance was on the agenda, but was again tabled to allow further discussion and study by council members.

Voting officials were appointed for the September 21st special city council election. Mayor Ricky Haywood presented a list of voters who have either worked before or agreed to attend the special voting official school and the council approved the recommendations.

Bobby Brunson, representing the Elba Singles Club, was present requesting use of the old band room for club activities.

Action was tabled until the council could get an estimate on the cost of for club activities.

One-car wreck injures New Brockton man

by Ferrin Cox
Publisher

A one car accident in Elba late Monday afternoon put one man in a Dothan hospital in serious condition.

Rodney Herring, age 30, of New Brockton, was in a coma Tuesday morning with head injuries after he was ejected from his truck in the one vehicle accident on the New Brockton Highway. The wreck occurred in front of the old Bradshaw Grocery building.

Witnesses said they saw the car slide sideways down the highway and hit the curbing in front of the store. It then flipped and came to rest on its side in the intersection of Highway 84 and Twin Oaks Road. The lone occupant was ejected from the vehicle during this time.

Herring was treated by the Elba Rescue Squad and transported to Elba General Hospital. He was then flown by a Fl. Rucker helicopter to a Dothan hospital where he remains in critical condition at press time.

Lindsey runs for District 3 seat

Charles Lindsey has announced his candidacy for the District 3 seat on the Elba City Council.

Lindsey said, "I believe that the City of Elba is a big and serious business and that it should be run as such."

"If elected," said Lindsey, "I will not vote for a sales tax."

In conclusion Lindsey said, "If you feel the same way as I do, vote for and elect Charles Lindsey as councilman in District 3 on Tuesday, September 21st."

fair. "We should not spend any money that we do not have, no member of the city government should have control of more than one vote, and no decisions should be made before the council or a board meets."

All decisions affecting the people of Elba should be decided by the council in a free and open discussion," said Lindsey.

Lindsey noted several of his concerns about managing the city's affairs.

Yelverton vying for 3rd term

In the municipal election held in 1992, Gladys Yelverton was elected to a third term as councilperson for District 1 in the City of Elba.

A federal judge recently ruled that the 1992 election was invalid and ordered new district lines to be drawn. A new election was also ordered and is scheduled for September 21st.

After qualifying for re-election, Yelverton stated, "I appreciate the vote and support that the citizens of District 1 have given me during the last three elections and I am again asking for their vote of confidence and support in the special election."

She further stated, "I've served two full terms with different administrations and I believe that I have the experience, capability and qualifications to work with any administration that the citizens elect."

During my tenure on the council, I've voted, made decisions and followed the course that I felt was most beneficial to the people of District One and all the citizens of Elba."

Elba's city council consists of a mayor elected-at-large and five council members elected from 5 districts.

Mrs. Yelverton stated, "Each person has only one vote. Implementing or the carrying out of projects and programs approved by the council is the responsibility of the mayor. No council member has the authority to supervise the work of city employees or contractors.

"One issue that I must address during this election campaign in the Mulberry Paving Project. As a council member, I did what was within my power to get the project completed."

She continued, "There are rumors that I am responsible for the way the project progressed but I say to the citizens living along these streets, that responsibility lies elsewhere."

Yelverton concluded, "The representative for District One MUST NOT be self-serving but people serving!"

New Brockton Council says no to additional gas tax

by Marvin McIlwain
Editor

New Brockton Town Council says "no" to 1¢ additional sales tax on gasoline and "yes" to move to District Court.

City council members Roseann Lewis and Jack Caradine both cast nay votes on an ordinance to raise the tax on gasoline to 2¢ per gallon in lieu of 1¢ per gallon.

According to Mayor Kathryn Holley, in order for the ordinance to have passed, it would have required a unanimous vote of the council.

Mayor Holley estimated that the tax increase would have generated approximately $6,000 to $7,000 annually.

She stated that the town could really have used the revenue that this increase would have generated.

"This means that we'll probably lose another police officer and that we won't be able to make our payments on bills," said Holley.

Council member Lewis asked how the previous administration had managed to pay the bills and police officers.

"They didn't!" Holley responded. "We inherited a $68,000 debt."

The mayor stated that this was an attempt to bring the town up to the same "level" as other towns in the area.

"I'm just the overseer and ya'll are suppose to provide the money with which I can pay for all the expenses of the town," said Mayor Holley.

"So, if I can't make the payments on the expenditures for the town then we can close the doors," she concluded.

Councilman Charles Cole said, "We are going to pay now or later. We might as well hurt now."

Councilman Caradine asked if there was anyway for it, the ordinance, to be tabled.

Cole said "It's gone now you can't table it. It's too late!"

Following the failure of the gasoline tax ordinance, the council did come together unanimously to abolish the town's municipal court.

Passage of this ordinance places all laws and town ordinances under the jurisdiction of the District Court of Coffee County.

Alma Hornsby addressed the council.

She informed council members that a black caucus consisting of black elected official within the county had been formed and would be meeting with them in the near future.

Hornsby told council members that she and other residents continued to be concerned about the stray dogs in the town.

"We don't need to wait until a child or anyone has been bitten by a rabid dog before doing something about the problem," Hornsby said.

She also told council members that the roads/streets in District 2 were in bad need of repair.

Hornsby also noted that the residents of District 2 were concerned about police protection. She requested that police officers routinely patrol the neighborhood.

Other actions taken by the council were as follows:

Approved payment of monthly bills totaling $5,263.36.

Approved the hiring of Ewin-Corner & Associates, Inc. of Dothan, AL to oversee the housing rehab project. It will be their responsibility to screen all contractors on this new project.

Mayor given authority to accept sealed bids on two old gas storage tanks. The bids are to be opened at the next council meeting.

Accepted the resignation of Police Officer Leon Adkins.

Murder investigation continues

Law enforcement officials are looking for a missing gun in connection with the murder of a Pike County woman.

Law enforcement agencies continue to follow leads in the rape and murder of Edna Reeves, 74, but no arrest has been made at this time.

In a press conference held last Friday, officers stated that the gun could possibly help determine who committed the August 14th murder.

District Attorney Joel Folmar said the gun is a Smith & Wesson, Model 49, revolver pistol with a nickel finish (silver color). It is a 38 caliber weapon with a 2-inch barrel and is capable of firing five shots.

One unique feature of the pistol is that it has no visible hammer.

McMillan runs for council

Jerry McMillan is seeking to represent District One on the Elba City Council.

"I am running for this office for many reasons," said McMillan. "But, the one that sticks out is A CHANGE!"

"This is not only how I feel but the people that I've talked to, feel this way also," said McMillan.

He stated that our city government needs unity - not separation.

"The people with whom I have spoken seem to feel the same way as I do," said McMillan.

He stated that the people of District One have many problems that need to be addressed and if he is elected, he plans to do all that is within his power to see that they are.

"We need to get Elba moving again and settle our differences some place else," said McMillan.

"I plan to work with the mayor and other city officials," he said.

He plans to monitor all board appointments - especially the school board.

"I think we need people on these boards that promote growth and unity and who are not just interested in holding a position," said McMillan.

He contends that ALL young people need some help - not just in District One.

"We have a fine school, so let's get some fine teachers that want to help the children," McMillan stated.

Turning to recreation, he said, "I think we have one of the finest recreation departments in the area and I feel that the director is doing a fine job."

"I intend to work with him on
